

FLYING SQUADRON VISITS GRENADA

Five Members of Jackson Laymen Come to Grenada and Deliver Thrilling Messages. Talk to Men in Afternoon. Union Service at First Baptist Church.

By invitation of the Grenada Broadcasters, the Flying Squadron of Jackson sent five of its members to Grenada last Sunday. Those who came were: Messrs. Harry Austin, F. S. Harmon, George L. Googe, L. L. Patterson and I. C. Garber.

Services were held for the men in the afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian church and that night, the congregations of the different churches of the town joined in the services at the First Baptist church.

In the afternoon service, Mr. Harmon introduced the members of the Squadron in the order of their speaking. They made earnest appealing talks and showed that they believed heart and soul in what they were saying.

That night at the First Baptist church, Mr. C. C. White, president of the Grenada Broadcasters, had charge of the preliminary features of the meeting, after which he presented Mr. Googe of the Flying Squadron. Mr. Googe is only a little more than a mere boy, but he stood up and faced that large audience and delivered a message that would have done credit to one many years his senior.

Mr. Googe was largely instrumental in organizing the boys' prayer meeting in Jackson which is composed of something over two hundred, not less than one hundred and twenty-five of whom are present every meeting. At the conclusion of Mr. Googe's talk he presented Mr. Harry Austin, one of the most prominent architects of the State. Mr. Austin gave at length, but most interestingly, sketches of his career in which he had scoffed at the church and all religious pretensions. He said that he had "one the girls". He said that he told his wife a few days before Gypsy Smith started his meeting in Jackson that he did not want her to mention Smith to him.

As the meeting progressed and after several hundred men were assembling day after day for prayer service, he told about an invitation given him to attend the service and about his reply, emphasizing with an oath. However, he said the entreaties of a friend caused him to yield and go into the prayer service and it was there, he said, that his heart was touched and that the prayer of "Now I lay me down to sleep" taught him by his mother and many other things connected with the past came vividly to mind, so he concluded to attend the Smith meeting. He made a surrender, he said, at the first invitation. He told of the rich experience he had had since. He said that he had had what he thought were many thrills in his waywardness, but he stated that he wanted to emphasize, and especially to the men and the boys, that he had never experienced any thrills or had any joys comparable to what he had had since he united with those who are trying to carry the banner of Christ. He said that he had not seen one of his boys for fifteen years, that he had thought he was dead, perhaps, but that since his conversion, he had prayed much and fervently that he might find out where that boy is, and that not long ago he heard from the boy and that the boy was so overjoyed that he (the son) called him over the phone and spent $18 talking to him. He said that prayer located the boy for him.

Mr. Patterson gave equally as thrilling an experience. He told of his conversion and of his determination from this on to try to get other men to honor Christ and to follow in His footsteps for the real joy there was in it.

Mr. I. C. Garber followed Mr. Patterson. Mr. Garber is one of the best known contractors in Mississippi. It is said of him that he has erected more buildings than any other contractor in the State. He laid his life bare, he confessed his sins and told of his misdoings before that large audience. He said that it humiliated him to tell what he was telling but that he was doing it for the glory of God and that others might profit by his awful mistakes. He said that since his conversion that he had had the joy and the privilege of leading others to Christ. He pleaded with the men to get actively into the work of the church and to lose no time in trying to show the goodness of God unto others. He said that he had gotten more real, true joy out of life during the last ten months than he did even in 20 years before.

These three men, Messrs. Austin, Patterson and Garber, all pointed back to the old home and the lessons they got from a Christian mother who taught them as soon as they could speak to say "Now I lay me down to sleep." They stated that they had joined the church when mere children but that they had strayed away and had felt at times that all church goers were hypocrites. There is a lesson from this that should encourage fathers and mothers to drill into their children from their very infancy a love for God and his righteousness. Parents should take hope and courage from what these men said in knowing that the teaching of the sweet and hallowed petition of "Now I lay me down to sleep," is seed sown in good ground and that it will bear fruit ere long.

Mr. F. S. Harmon, a young attorney of Jackson, was the next speaker. Mr. Harmon is unlike the other three speakers. He is the son of a Methodist minister, and has tried from his childhood to please his parents and to follow their teachings.

His message was a strong and convincing one. It was a pleasing argument for religious fellowship and for the doing of those things that make for better individual living and for a better understanding of one's duty to his community.

Mr. Harmon especially emphasized the idea of one's keeping faith with himself by investing in religion today for what it may mean to him tomorrow and in the years to come.

He quoted from sundry philosophers and statesmen of the past to impress what he said. He said that one might go to Washington City and look in on the White House and the Capitol and might think that civilization, that the good things, were centered there, but that that would be wrong. He said that if he would go to the homes, or back on the farm where the family gathered and where the better things of the day were reviewed, that he would find that there is where civilization comes from, that the home is where purity of thought and godliness of purpose is born.

Mr. Harmon is a finished and pleasing talker and he may be looked for to make his imprint as a lawyer and as a man in the commonwealth. Grenada was glad to have had these earnest men in her midst. They sowed good seeds. They left some messages that will be thought over and over and that will add to their crowns when they enter the gates of the Great City above.

FARM TAXES INCREASED NEARLY 300 PER CENT

Taxes Per Acre in 1914 and 1922 Given by Department Agriculture. Mississippi Shows Over 250 Per Cent. Mississippi Lands Pay 67 Cents Per Acre.

Washington, March 6.—Taxes on farm lands have more than doubled in the eight years from 1914 to 1922. A canvass by the Department of Agriculture, just completed, shows the average amount of state, county and local taxes paid by farmers throughout the country in 1922 to have been 70.3 cents per acre compared with 31.04 cents in 1914. That was an increase of 226 per cent in the eight years. The canvass disclosed that roads and public schools were the principal causes of the increased taxes.

The average taxes paid per acre on farm lands in 1914 and 1922 by states includes:

State	1914	1922

CHARLES TRIMBLE STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

Mr. Charles Trimble was stricken with paralysis in Memphis on Wednesday of this week. A telegram from C. E. Ingram to Crawford Garner brought this news to Grenada and it was stated that he was at the Gartley-Ramsey hospital. His many friends deeply sympathize with him in his affliction.

J. L. ACEE DIED IN HOT SPRINGS

Mr. J. L. Acee died in Hot Springs on the night of March 7 of bronchial pneumonia. His remains reached Grenada Wednesday night, and after funeral services conducted from the residence Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church, were laid to rest in Odd Fellow's cemetery.

Mr. Acee was best known as "Tene". He had been in declining health for several years. He was a kind hearted, generous minded man and sought to live at peace with his neighbors and all mankind. He was 50 years of age. He was a member of the First Baptist church. He is survived by his wife and four children to whom sincere sympathy is extended.

AN AGED LADY PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Harriett F. Fielder died at her home just on the border of Carroll County, 12 miles south of Grenada, on Wednesday night of last week and her remains were buried Thursday afternoon at Sparta church, the funeral services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. F. Rogers, assisted by Rev. Melville Johnson, pastor of the Methodist church in Grenada and a former pastor of that circuit.

Mrs. Fielder was the widow of Dr. J. R. Fielder, who died in 1878 just after the yellow fever epidemic. She was half-sister of Mr. W. M. Dubard of Grenada but much older than he. She had long been a member of the Methodist church and was known as a woman of saintly character and of inestimable worth.

She is survived by six sons and three daughters. The six sons were pall bearers, and it was a beautiful sentiment that led them to do that and one that the departed one would pronounce her benedictions upon if she could whisper a word back from the gates of the Eternal City.

To the bereft The Sentinel extends sympathy.

C. C. WHITE ANNOUNCES FOR LEGISLATURE

Favors Abolishing Useless Offices and of Cutting Garment to Fit the Cloth. Some Views in General.

To the Voters of Grenada County: In announcing my candidacy for the office of Representative in the lower house of the Mississippi Legislature from Grenada County, I am actuated by a desire to be of service to the citizenship of the County and by a belief that my qualification will enable me to render acceptable service to my constituency if elected.

For the past five years I have been a citizen of Grenada County. During that time my business has taken me constantly into the various sections of the state, thereby affording me an opportunity to become acquainted with the economic conditions and problems affecting the taxpayers of Mississippi.

As a thinking man, and as one having had considerable business experience, I am naturally interested in the fiscal problems of our state—and no reasoning person can gainsay the fact that the problem of financing our state government is the most serious question confronting the law-making body of Mississippi. This is a serious time with every taxpayer.

My position with reference to appropriations and taxation resulting therefrom is easily stated: I am in favor of making the garment fit the cloth. The ever-increasing burden of taxation cannot be indefinitely borne. The sooner our fiscal administration is put on a safe, sane and conservative business basis, the sooner our people will find the road to happiness and financial independence.

We in Mississippi are a poor people; our per capita wealth is among the lowest of the various states of the Union; our resources are limited and are being constantly depleted. Lawmakers should recognize these facts and face them squarely when considering the source from which revenue from taxation is derived.

I am not an advocate of crippling any state institution, but I am in favor of administering them in the same manner in which we administer our personal business affairs, namely, when we have not the money, we do not spend it and when we have it, we make every dollar secure the maximum return after being convinced that the purpose for which it is being expended is an absolute necessity.

I am in favor of abolishing unnecessary state offices, clerkships and honorariums. I am in favor of consolidating others where the desired and necessary results can be obtained. I believe that a reduction of the number of chancery and circuit court districts could be accomplished without impairing the administration of justice.

The financial and economic salvation of our state lies in the development of our agricultural resources. To this end I shall favor marketing legislation for farm products and shall support measures whose purpose is to provide remedial and constructive legislation for the farmers of Mississippi.

I was born and reared on a farm in Neshoba County. Many of my closest relatives are today on the farm. I therefore feel that I am by birth, by training and by surroundings personally interested in and in touch with the farming life of the State.

In summarizing the foregoing, permit me to say that if elected I shall devote my entire time, best efforts and whatever talent I have to the service of the people of Grenada County. My platform is simply this: I am for a conservative, business administration of the fiscal affairs of Mississippi with all that it implies, through which a normal development may be had and relief from oppressive taxation provided.

If this principle meets with your approval and if you believe that by training, experience and ability I am qualified to serve you in the Legislature, I shall appreciate your influence and vote.

Sincerely,
C. C. WHITE.

AXTWELL SISTERS HERE WEEK OF MARCH 26

The Sentinel takes pleasure in announcing that the Axtwell Sisters plan to make Grenada the week beginning March 26. This is a dramatic show and is now making its seventh season. It had planned to make Grenada next week, but owing to the revival meeting already planned at the First Baptist church, it deferred its coming until the date named above. This was a very thoughtful thing and shows the right sort of appreciation of the church and the better activities of the community. One of the owners of this show was in Grenada this week and bears all the earmarks of a first class man in every respect.

MRS. INMAN EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

I wish to say to one and all who so kindly and so graciously interested themselves in my candidacy for Recorder that I am deeply appreciative. I think, in view of the fact that I was able to see but very few of the voters, that I did remarkably well. I thank everybody and have no regrets over the very pleasant affair.

Very sincerely,
Mrs. Bettie Inman.
Grenada, Miss., March 6, 1923.

GRENADA COLLEGE TRUSTEES MEET

Determine To Try To Raise Endowment For College.

The trustees of Grenada College met in Grenada Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of arranging plans, if possible, to raise the required endowment which the demands of certain fastidious educators have set in order that institutions may be regarded as "A grade" institutions. The amount required is $250,000, and it is believed that plans have been formulated which will make the task not a difficult one.

WINONA EDITOR BECOMES CANDIDATE

Enters Race for Secretary of State

Winona, Miss., March 6.—Hon. Walker Wood, editor of the Winona Times, and one of the best known men in the State, today formally announced his candidacy for Secretary of State. Mr. Wood has served in the State Legislature and has taken a leading part in the affairs of the State for a number of years. His announcement followed requests from friends from all sections of the State to become a candidate for this office. Through this department of government a volume of the State's printing is done and the person filling this position should be familiar with paper, printing and prices. Mr. Wood is well qualified along this, as well as other lines, to dispatch the duties of the office efficiently.

Fellow townsmen and countrymen of Mr. Wood have issued the address below in the interest of his candidacy, carrying the signatures of professional and business men, farmers and many ladies:

"To the People of Mississippi:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Winona, and Montgomery County, the home of Walker Wood, commend to you his candidacy for Secretary of State. Mr. Wood is a native, progressive citizen, a staunch Democrat, and has devoted much of his time to working for those material things which we enjoy in our State today. We have no question to raise as to the Democracy or competency of the present incumbent, but in view of the fact that he has held this office for more than 20 years, succeeding his father, we ask that you elect our fellow citizen because he is worthy and well qualified."

Mr. Wood will begin an active canvass of the State in the near future.

DAIRY SPECIAL WITH PURE BRED BULLS HERE

I. C. Train To Promote Dairying. Bulls on Public Square Where Prof. Van Pelt Makes Instructive and Reassuring Address. What Dairying Has Done for Denmark.

After four days out with the Purebred Dairy Sire Special over the Illinois Central System in the southern territory, the train reached Grenada March 1. Farmers drove from 15 to 20 miles to hear the lectures delivered by Prof. Hugh G. Van Pelt, President of the Waterloo Jersey Farm and a national authority on the subject of dairying, feeding and breeding, and Mr. H. J. Schwietert, General Development Agent of the Illinois Central System and his agricultural agents.

The value of a purebred sire in building up the herds and flocks on the farms is the one thing that was most emphatically emphasized. That is the method by which all the great dairy breeds have been developed and there is no other way. Thus, "you may buy good cows from other dairymen," said Mr. Van Pelt, "but the surest and safest way is to take the cows you now have and cross them with purebred bulls backed up by a strong ancestry and then reserve the best heifers from your best cows and in turn breed these heifers to another equally as good bull as the sire of the heifer again keeping the female offspring, and again repeating the former operation generation after generation, and you will soon have high producing cows, cows that will produce profitably and economically, and then dairy farmers from other communities and other states will make their way to your barnyard to purchase all the surplus cows and heifers you may have to sell."

Mr. Van Pelt said that the best way to make sure of a good milch cow "is to begin a long time ago to breed for a good cow."

Mr. Van Pelt cited the farmers and stock raisers to Denmark, a kingdom of milk, butter and eggs. He told of the independence of the farmers there. And among other things, he cited was that the farmers of Denmark bought cotton seed cakes raised right here in Mississippi, paid the freight to Denmark and fed them to the cows and made money by so doing.

The bulls were fine specimens, and it was a most commendable thing on the part of the railroad to run the special train and better still, to offer to locate the bulls in any county where there are 150 pure bred cows without cost to the farmers. Of course it may be said that the railroad will profit in the long run by the free use of the bulls in an increased citizenship and increased freight. But the farmers and others where the bulls are offered would likewise greatly profit, even to a greater degree than the railroad.

In thinking of Denmark in regard to dairying, it is well to know that more than half the farms of Denmark are less than 13 acres and that nine out of every ten farms are owned and operated by the owners. Every farm is said to be a butter factory and there is no people on the globe that are really more independent, who are more prosperous.

With the proposition of the Grenada Bank to furnish money to buy the cows and the I. C. railroad proposing to furnish the bulls, it would seem that there can be no excuse for Grenada County not getting into the dairy business good and strong which would mean money coming in week by week and a more prosperous people.

The man who is out in a boat which has sprung a leak would be regarded as worse than foolish if he refused to get out of the leaky boat in a dangerous stream into one where thousands of others were making it safe to the shore. Mr. Farmer, see the point. Make the application.

FATHER AND SON TANK UP ON WHITE MULE

Proceed to Brown's Mill Where Liquor and Pistol Prompt Much Bravado. Young Man Got Broken Jaw. Public demands that Courts Apply Needed Penalty.

On last Sunday in the vicinity of Brown's mill, Mr. W. C. Herbert of district 3, this county, in company with a son somewhere near twenty years of age, tanked up on corn liquor and proceeded to get breezy and to raise o'fuss with some negroes presumably after indulging in the "social indiscretion" of playing craps with them.

The affair being almost immediately in front of the store of Mr. W. J. Jennings, Jr., he interceded to get the two white men to leave the premises and to cease their turbulence. The elder man, while quite groggy from the liquor, showed a disposition to obey Mr. Jennings' injunction but the younger one grew more violent. Mr. Jennings had taken the younger one's pistol away from him, but this did not seemingly lessen his bravado. Mr. Jennings persisted in the boy away, but when some ladies and gentlemen were nearing the scene, it is said that the corn liquor made the young man's tongue wag all the more viciously, so much so that Mr. Jennings landed on his jaw with his fist with such force as to break his jaw bone, and one rather remarkable thing about the lick breaking the jaw bone was that the break was on the side opposite from where the blow struck.

Mr. Herbert is said to be a hard working man and one worthy of confidence, but he certainly forgot himself when he started out with his own boy and gave the lad a bottle of white mule, presumably for the purpose of winning some money shooting craps. It must have been a sad spectacle to see a father and son drunk and for one to know that the father was particeps criminis to the boy's deplorable conduct.

Affidavit will no doubt be made against both the father and the son for disorderly conduct and for breathing out violent oaths in the presence of one or more persons as well as for carrying a pistol. There should be no half-way ground about such matters. Those who elect to buy white mule and then start out on the public highway to raise the devil generally should be so severely dealt with by the courts that they will not soon repeat the offense.

For one to carry along a supply of mean whiskey is bad enough, but when a pistol, a thing made to take human life, is added to the whiskey the offense is doubly aggravated, and those who do this should be so severely reminded of what they have done as that they will keep the matter fresh in their minds for many a day. Then the courts should take cognizance of these things as a warning to others. There is no middle ground in dealing with the white mule man and the pistol toter. The love of home and the care of the womanhood of the country demand that law-violators pay the penalty for their acts.

WAS PROBABLY McNEIL BURNED

Think That Charred Body That of Man Who Escaped Jail.

A news item in the daily press carried the story Monday of the charred body of a man being found in the woods by some hunters the day before between Burnside and Stallo Miss. It was stated that the man's clothing was still burning when his body was found and that there were marked evidences of a struggle to save himself. The man, it is thought built a fire and went to sleep and his clothing caught fire and he was unable to extinguish the flames. It was stated that the words "Burnside Miss." were found on a sheet of a day book the man carried. The man McNeil, who escaped jail here on the night of Feb. 24, had written the same words on the walls of his cell at the jail in several places, hence the idea that the burned man was the McNeil wanted here.

LESSON FOR MARCH 11

JESUS IN GETHSEMANE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:39-46, 54.
GOLDEN TEXT—Christ also hath once suffered for our sins, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God.—
1 Peter 3:18.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt 4:1-11;
26:23-46; 1 Cor. 10:13; Heb. 4:15, 16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—An Angel Helps
Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Prays for Strength.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—How to Stand the Hardest Test.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—Submission to the Father's Will.

I. Jesus at the Mount of Olives (v. 39). He went from the upper room under cover of night to the garden of Gethsemane. Gethsemane means oil press. It is a place where the oil was crushed out of the olives. There is a striking significance in Jesus' coming to this place. Olive oil was precious, being used both for food and lighting. The bruising and crushing of Christ in this garden has yielded the largest blessings in the world. It has provided food for men's souls and light for their lives.

II. His Companions (vv. 39, 40). Peter, James and John, who had been with Him on the Mount of Transfiguration, were permitted to go with Him into the deep shadows of the garden. He took those who were best able to apprehend the meaning of the tragic hour to be His sympathizing companions. This was needed to prepare them as His witnesses. Then, too, as a human being He craved sympathy.

Jesus Praying (vv. 41-44).

1. He Withdrew From the Disciples (v. 41). Even these disciples of the "inner circle" could not go with Him. He tore himself away from them for He must be alone in this darkest hour. He knelt down and prayed.

2. What He Said (vv. 42-44). "If thou be willing remove this cup from me." The cup did not mean the physical sufferings of the cross, though they were very great. He did not now desire to escape from the cross and thus stop short of His redemptive work, for this was the supreme purpose of His coming into the world (Heb. 2:14). It was rather the revelation to Him by the cross which loomed before Him, of His identification with sin in becoming the world's Redeemer. By virtue of the holiness and perfection of His nature, He could do nothing else than shrink from it. He saw in this bearing of the sins of the world the turning away of His Father's face. Knowing what was before Him, He came to Gethsemane for this hour, and in it He consciously brought his human will into accord with the divine will. Though the cup was bitter he bowed in submission to the Father's will. So great was this agony that His sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. In this crucial hour an angel from heaven strengthened him.

IV. The Disciples Sleeping (vv. 45, 46). They had boasted of their fidelity, but could not watch with Him for an hour. He had issued a word of warning to them, but they were so benumbed with sorrow that they failed. He gently rebuked them, and commanded that they rise and pray lest they enter into temptation.

V. Jesus Betrayed (vv. 47, 48).

1. The Betrayal (v. 47). This was done by Judas, one of the twelve. He had enjoyed the most intimate relations with the Lord, eating with Him, listening to His teaching, witnessing His marvelous miracles and enjoying His confidence.

2. The Sign of Betrayal (v. 47). It was the kiss, the token of the most tender affection and friendship. He now degrades it by making it the token of disloyalty and treason. Jesus' words to this infamous disciple shows the infinite tenderness of His heart. If Judas had been at all human this pathetic appeal would have smitten him to the very heart. How many professing disciples have proven their disloyalty to the Master and even betrayed Him. All who bear the name, Christian, and especially ministers and teachers who deny the virgin birth, Deity and vicarious atonement of Christ are following in the footsteps of Judas. May each one inquire, "Lord, is it I?"

VI. Jesus Arrested (v. 54).

The multitude around with swords and clubs led by Judas invaded the sacred precincts of the garden and arrested Jesus and brought Him before the high priest.

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

TOO SMART

She had a high opinion of herself and regarded customers as really rather nulsances.

"Do you keep dog collars?" inquired the meek-looking man.

"No," she snapped. "We sell them!"

"Anyway," he said, as he strolled towards the door, "you'll keep the one you were going to sell me! Good-morning!"

Not So Helpful.

"I beg your pardon. Could you tell me how far it is to the post office?"

"Bless my soul!" exclaimed Professor Diggs. "I can't tell you, sir. But," he continued, brightening considerably, "if you are interested in knowing, I can tell you exactly how far it is to Sirius, the dog star."

Held to Earth.

"Your boy Josh seems to be talented."

"Yes," said Farmer Cornstossel, "and I'm sorry for it. It doesn't seem right to expect a boy to do chores when anybody can see he was cut out to be a bank president or a motion picture star."—Washington Star.

The Ultimate Object.

Mrs. Goodsole—We should avoid all these modern vanities and frivolities lest we be weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Mrs. Woodby-Slimmer—Weighed and found wanting? Why, that's just what I'm trying to accomplish by strict dieting.

A Warning.

Uncle Ezra—Guess I'll go an' buy a few bananas off'n that push-cart man.

Aunt Martha—You leave him alone. Don't you mind how old man Grass-neck's boy lost everything he 'ad tradin' with one of these curb markets?

Nemesis.

The class in mythology was having a hearing.

"Who was Nemesis?" demanded the professor.

"A bill collector," faltered the student addressed.

And the professor decided to let it go at that.

BEQUEATHED ELSEWHERE

He—My ancestors were all people with brains.

She—Too bad you were disinherited.

So Sympathetic.

The tender-hearted Dolly Dream said: "Have a heart, I beg; Oh, mother, do not whip that cream. And please don't beat that egg."

In Venice.

They were on the Grand canal. "Don't you love it here?" asked one.

"I do," breathed the other. "Here we find the Rialto, the Bridge of Sighs. Here is where Shakespeare wrote 'Venice and Adonis.'"

Reading the Signs.

Wife—Why are you so sure that young Peters is going to propose to our Lizzy?

Hubby—Because now I've told him the same joke five times—and each time he's about ready to die laughing.

Most Rare.

"Has the person you just spoke of any claims to distinction?"

"He has one of those hyphenated names."

"That isn't unusual."

"But he seems averse to seeing it in print."

Cheap.

"Well, there's one good thing about that wedding present you're sending them."

"What is it?"

"They won't need to go to the expense of hiring detectives to guard it."

Mind Reading.

Young Doc (taking pulse of old patient)—I rather think that you regard me as a quack.

Patient—Doctor, you certainly surprise me by reading my thoughts through my pulse.

Just the Kind.

She—I do not care to marry you. I do not care even to talk to you.

He (a widower)—That is precisely the reason I want you to marry me.

Fear and Hope.

He—I have a presentiment that our engagement won't last.

She—Oh, Harry, don't say that. I hope it will last forever.

WASTED ENERGY

"When I wuzz a young man, mum, de neighbors where I lived called me a 'human dynamo,'" said the languid-looking tramp.

"Well, they wouldn't call you that now," answered the housewife.

"No, m. But I wuzz like a dynamo in one respect."

"How was that?"

"The energy I created never got me anywhere."

Doctor With a Sure Cure.

"Doctor, can't you help my husband?"

"What's the matter with him?"

"Oh, he worries so."

"About what?"

"About the money. Can't you please do something for him?"

"I think I can. Send him to me; I'll relieve him of some of his trouble."

—London Tit-Bits.

The Law's So Inquisitive.

"Why do you want a divorce?" asked the lawyer.

"Oh, just because," said the fair visitor.

"Just because" is a good feminine excuse, but if you want to get the judge's serious attention you'll have to amplify it a little in court."

The Money's Worth.

"Your constituents say your speeches are not as entertaining as they used to be."

"Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "they ought to be reasonable, and remember a man in my position doesn't draw the salary of a great public entertainer."—Washington Star.

THOSE GIRLS
"Jack complimented me on my complexion last night."

"Sort of a powder puff, eh?"

Transformation.

A little rouge, a little curl,
A powder box—a pretty girl,
A bit of rain, away it goes,
A homely girl, with freckled nose!

The Doubt.

"And you don't believe the story of Noah and the ark?"

"Oh, I can't say I just don't believe it, friend. But what I say is, it makes me kind of curious. I'd like to know how they got them two hogs on the ark with only Noah's family to help drive 'em!"

Time Changes Them.

"No, I positively will not travel over that smoky O. N. T. railroad again. It has too many long, dirty tunnels."

"You never said that before we were married. In fact, you didn't want to travel over any other road."

Compromise.

Her Father—That young fellow's no good. You mustn't let him see you any more.

Philippa—Do you mind if he calls on me if he takes off his glasses? He doesn't see very well without 'em.—Ladies Home Journal.

Designing Woman.

Yearwedd—You never call me pet names now unless you want something. Before we were married it was different.

Mrs. Yearwedd—Oh, no, it wasn't. Before we were married I called you pet names because I wanted you.

Couldn't Be Literature.

"You were not very complimentary in speaking of Scribner's new book."

"Didn't I say it would sell by the trainload?"

"That's just the point I'm making."

—Birmingham Age-Herald.

PLACING HIM
Guest—There's an awfully weak bed in that room you gave me.

Hotel Clerk—You said you were a light sleeper.

Mary's Little Cake.
Mary baked a little cake
To tickle papa's palate:
He put it on a hickory stick
And used it for a mallet.

Troubles of the Skipper.
Captain Noah—Well, what's wanted now?

Monk (the steward)—Those flea creatures are demanding another dog to pasture their family on.

Or an Umbrella.
"Pa, what is preparedness?"

"Preparedness, my son, is the act of wearing spectacles to breakfast when you know that you are going to have grapefruit."—Lyra.

Breezy.
She (at the theater)—It's frightfully close in here.

He—Cheer up! The orchestra will change the air in a minute.

ERROR AS TO TRAVEL EXPENSE

In our article of last week, "Mr. Taxpayer, will you study these figures?" there appeared in parenthesis these words "to which should be added $1200 travel expense" immediately following "office of Secretary of State". The "travel expense" was written to apply to office of State Superintendent of Education, and the proof reader made the correction accordingly but the error slipped by in the rear office. Our friend Joe Power has written us about the error, but we had noted it as soon as the paper was off the press. Joe Power does not travel much and far be it from us to charge Joe with galavanting around at the State's expense when Joe is not guilty.

RECEIVING LETTERS OF COMMENDATION

We have had many to commend our article of last week which appeared on the first page of The Sentinel under the caption, "Mr. Taxpayer, will you study these figures?", and we have received a number of letters from friends in different parts of the State of a like tenor. We received a letter from a prominent north Mississippian who referred to the article as one which is "like a fire alarm at midnight."

We are taking the liberty of quoting a part of a letter we received from Hon. C. H. Williams, brother of John Sharp Williams, of Yazoo City: "I think you are doing a great service to your State and doing it in the right way.  I wish every county newspaper in the State would copy your articles and so spread the information. The extravagance is equal in municipalities and counties. Where and how all this is going to end, short of bankruptcy, God only knows."

We shall keep up the lick, and if something is not accomplished towards bringing relief, the responsibility is not ours. Of course we realize that what is contracted for, that debts already made, must be paid, but for heaven's sake, let's cut expenditures from now on.

THE CHURCH IS A FORTRESS

If to keep the promises was as easy as to make them everybody would start the New Year with a clean slate. To tell the truth, if school boards and church boards would see fit to eliminate from their rosters of officials all who refuse to pay their debts there would be almost a complete turn-over among teachers and deacons and elders, also some prophets and preachers who don't pay as they pray. Conscience should be cultivated along this line.—Brookhaven Leader.

This sounds like the Leader has been "stung" by "teachers, deacons and elders, also some prophets and preachers." If the discipline suggested should be applied to these it might with equal justice be applied to those of their several flocks similarly delinquent. Indeed, we hold that all church members are just as deserving of censure for refusal to pay their debts as are church officials, and that all persons, regardless of their church membership, who make any pretensions to honesty and respectability, are just as censurable for like offenses as are the classes above named.—Madison County Herald.

The above from these two excellent newspapers is sound to the core, but the danger from such statements as contained in The Leader is found in encouraging the excuse so commonly heard, "well, if there were not so many two-faced, deceitful people in the church, it would be more potent for good," which may no doubt be true, yet the very man who utters the critical statement against the church member is apparently doing very little to set his own house in order, and it is a pretty safe bet that he is quite well acquainted with law violators.

The church is the fortress around whatever good in the community is built, and even the most wordily minded would not wish to remain long in any place where church spires did not point heavenward and where places dedicated to the worship of God were not in use.

Regardless of the imperfections of ministers of the Gospel and the incongruity of disposition and of character of a few, take them as a whole, one is bound to concede that they live in an atmosphere above the average, and that they are champions of every cause designed to show the things of God unto men. Unquestionably they are God's special messengers. Unquestionably the Christian ministry has found special favor in the sight of God. Ministers are human, just like the balance of the world, but it is their business, to think on things spiritual more than the average layman, therefore it is readily understood why these men are sought in hours of distress and sorrow when their prayers and words almost push back the curtains of the Eternal City where a glimpse of its solace, beauty and grandeur may be seen.

J. E. SHAW WANTS TO BE SUPERVISOR

Mr. J. E. Shaw wants to be supervisor from district 2, and has commissioned The Sentinel to place his candidacy before the voters of that district.

Mr. Shaw served four years as supervisor, an experience that ought to prove valuable to him should he again be called upon to fill this highly important office.

He has been a farmer all of his life. He has been an industrious and diligent farmer. Hustle, get up and go, seems to have been Mr. Shaw's slogan on the farm as well as elsewhere. He has succeeded well as a farmer and has been fortunate enough to lay by a competency for a rainy day, all of which is to his credit and tends to prove his worth to discharge important duties for other people.

During much of the road construction within the past two years Mr. Shaw served as road commissioner, hence should be in rather intimate touch with the work of road building and the road plans of the County.

Mr. Shaw enjoys the confidence of his neighbors and of the business public. So highly did the Newburger Cotton Co. value his judgment a few years ago, that he was sent on a special mission to Arkansas and to Texas to make a report on the devastation of the boll weevil and to make such recommendations as to farming in this section as his judgment might dictate.

Mr. Shaw is known as one of those farmers who "lives at home". He tries to make his farm produce everything possible needed on the farm. This is wise, and had a greater number of farmers of the South acted on this policy, this section would be in a long way better condition financially than it is.

With Mr. Shaw's business success; with his record as a go-ahead, untiring farmer; with his persistency about what he sets his head to do, together with his varied experience, it would seem safe to assert, that should he be chosen supervisor, he will maintain the standards heretofore set in this never before so important office, and that he will render the same service as a supervisor as he has as a private citizen.

JOHN H. JAMES ASKS A REELECTION

Mr. John H. James desires The Sentinel to state to the voters of district 2 that he would appreciate another term as supervisor.

Mr. James is a member of a family that has long been a part of the life and the history of beat 2. He is a farmer. He makes no pretense to the frills which in some places seem to be at a premium in making an estimate of men. He is plain, straightforward and honest. He is deliberate in judgment, careful of speech and persistent in his conclusions. When once he makes up his mind that a certain rule of action should be taken, it is difficult indeed to get him to shift to any other viewpoint. But in many respects this is commendable. The man who shifts his sails to catch the passing breeze, is one that too frequently must be "caught on the wing." Mr. James was honored by his fellow-members with the presidency of the board, a place he has maintained up to the standard set by his predecessors.

Mr. James believes that more rigid economy should be shown in the conduct of the County's affairs, and if reelected, he can be relied on to insist that less money be taken out of the pockets of the taxpayers. The present term is not the first time Mr. James has served as supervisor, hence it is but a reasonable conclusion to say that he is better prepared now than he was even four years ago to render the very best service. He should be intimately acquainted with the assessment rolls and the economic life of the County, all of which are very necessary to a proper service as supervisor. Mr. James may be counted on to see every voter possible in his district in regard to his candidacy.

CARL C. WHITE ANNOUNCES FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The Sentinel has been authorized to place the candidacy of Mr. Carl C. White before the voters of Grenada County, subject to the Democratic primary, for the office of Representative in the Legislature.

Mr. White was born on a farm in Neshoba County amid such surroundings as the average country boy has. He knows what it means to get up with the birds and to be out early at work in the fields where the larks sing and where the very turning over of the soil between the handles of a plow develops thinking and gives a lad hope and an inspiration which is difficult to duplicate elsewhere.

When Mr. White was nearly grown he taught a country school and attended college until he had received his diploma. Later he engaged in school teaching which vocation he followed until about six years ago when the Mississippi School Supply Co. of Jackson was organized by J. T. Thomas, A. B. Campbell, Dr. J. R. Countiss and others of Grenada as well as in other parts of the State. Mr. White took an interest in this company and has been its chief traveling salesman in which position he has more than made good.

When he first came to Grenada, he was so pleased with the town and the community generally that he decided to make this his home, hence he purchased a lot and built a neat little home and thus has become permanently identified with the hope and the life of Grenada County.

Mr. White stands for those things in the church and in the moral and the religious life of the County that tend to make better men and better women and that add to the permanency and the development of a community. He takes an active interest in church work. He is a man of decided convictions and of well digested ideas.

Mr. White states that he is thoroughly cognizant of the financial plight of the State and that he fully appreciates the tax burdens of the people. He states that, should he be chosen to represent Grenada County in the lower house of the next Legislature, he will do his best to see that appropriations are not increased, and shall exercise what influence he has to see that useless offices are abolished, and Mr. White fully realizes that there are a number of offices that could be discontinued without in any way crippling the public service.

Mr. White will no doubt see the voters of the County between now and the primaries and will seek opportunity to give his view on public questions on the hustings.

IRA G. ROUNSAVILLE ASKS ANOTHER TERM

The Sentinel has been requested by Mr. Ira G. Rounsaville to say to the voters of district 4, that he would greatly appreciate being made a member of the board of supervisors from that district for another term. Mr. Rounsaville prides himself on the record he has made and especially against certain public expenditures, and he authorizes The Sentinel to state that he fully understands that taxes are unusually high, out of proportion to the earning power of the taxpayers, and that, if reelected, he will do what lies in his power to cut public expenditures. He pledges himself to vote against those things and those allowances which are not absolutely essential for the immediate needs and welfare of the County. Mr. Rounsaville states that he appreciates that there may be a law authorizing a certain expenditure, but that it shall be his aim not to vote for such expenditure unless it is manifestly evident that the immediate needs of the public will be subserved thereby. Mr. Rounsaville further authorizes The Sentinel to say that he appreciates that he and his fellow members have made some mistakes, but, that if again made supervisor, he will try to profit by these mistakes. He was born and reared in Grenada County and resides within a short distance of where he was born.

There are none who know Ira Rounsaville who will not readily say that his intentions are good and that he feels kindly to his fellowman. It will be readily conceded for him that he would not wilfully and knowingly do any one an injustice. The milk of human kindness forms an important element in his character, and that is a high compliment to any man. The man who thinks kindly, who wants the esteem of his fellows and who at all times prefers the kind and gracious thing to that which would hurt the feelings or make for the hurt of any one else, goes a long way towards meeting the true standards of Christianity and those sublime lessons which are taught in Holy Writ. The fact that Mr. Rounsaville has twice before been elected supervisor, shows that he has many traits of character that make friends, and it may properly be also construed as showing that he has the business confidence of a majority of his friends and neighbors.

LAFAYETTE ATKINSON SEEKS OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

The Sentinel has been asked to formally place the candidacy of Mr. LaFayette Atkinson before the voters of Grenada County, subject to the Democratic primaries, for the office of Superintendent of Public Education.

Mr. Atkinson was born and reared in district 5, a few miles southwest of Holcomb. He went to the neighborhood schools until he was ready for high school when he came to Grenada where he spent four years in the Grenada High School and where he was graduated. He went from the school in Grenada to the University of Mississippi where he spent four years and from whence he was graduated. He taught school as second head, or principal, at Amory. He did so well at Amory that the Tupelo High School made a bid for him and he taught his second year there. He went from Tupelo to McComb City where he filled a like position for two years to the entire satisfaction of that city. He voluntarily relinquished his position at McComb City to return home.

Mr. Atkinson volunteered for service when the World War came on and went across the seas, although he was never actively at the front. After the Armistice was signed, he embraced the opportunity offered the American soldiers in France to attend school, and was for several months a student at the University De Clermont, France. Thus it would appear that Mr. Atkinson's educational training, his experience as a teacher and the practical life he led in the country and on the farm where inspiration flows and where some of the greatest hopes of the world are born, justify the statement that he is exceptionally well qualified for the highly important trust he seeks.

It can be truthfully said to Mr. Atkinson's credit, that as a boy he was one quiet in demeanor, dutiful to his parents and commendably respectful of his seniors and of those with whom he associated. As he was as a boy, so is he as a young man. He has never in any sense been a sower of wild oats. He believes in the church and takes a proper interest in religious work. Taken all in all, he is a well rounded young man and richly deserves the confidence and the esteem of the public.

Should he be elected, it is safe to say that he will do his best to advance the school interests of Grenada County and to see that every child possible has an opportunity to get that training which he is entitled to by birth and which comes through the agencies of government.

Mr. Atkinson will no doubt do his best to get to know every man and woman in Grenada County and to give them an opportunity to know him between now and the primaries. The Sentinel feels sure that the voters of the County will give his candidacy that consideration they have always given every worthy young man.

J. L. TRIBBLE SEEKS SUPERVISOR'S OFFICE

Mr. J. L. Tribble of Holcomb has requested The Sentinel to place his name before the voters of district 5, as a candidate for the office of supervisor. He offers his record as a citizen as an earnest of what he will do, should he be elected.

Mr. Tribble comes of a family that has a long and honorable history and that has long been well known to the people in the western portion of Grenada and in the southern portion of Tallahatchie County. He is known as a kind hearted, clever and obliging man and as one who believes in practicing the Golden Rule. He has devoted his energies almost since his very boyhood to the farm, hence should be in a position to see the business and economic conditions of the hour from an angle that should qualify him to render that service as a supervisor which will best promote the interests of the farmers, who make up perhaps 90 per cent of his constituency. That Lee Tribble is honest none will gainsay. That he will do his best to serve the people of his district as supervisor, will not be disputed. And as he has been as a neighbor, a friend and as a citizen so will he be as a public official, hence it is fair to say that the same diligence and foresight he has shown in private life will he show as a public servant. The Sentinel commends Mr. Tribble's candidacy to the thoughtful consideration of the electorate of district 5.

TELL HIM NOW

If with pleasure you are viewing, any work a man is doing,
If you like him or you love him, tell him now;
Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration.
And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow;
For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it;
He won't know how many teardrops you have shed;
If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him,
For he cannot read his tombstone, when he's dead.

More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny,
And the hearty, warm approval of a friend,
For it gives 'o life a savor, and it makes you st onger, braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit to the end;
If he earns your praise—bestow it; if you like him, let him know it;
Let the words of true encouragement be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

DODGE BROTHERS TOURING CAR

As Spring days approach, the demand for Dodge Brothers Touring Car mounts swiftly.

Dodge Brothers one problem, at present, is not how many Touring Cars they can sell, but how many they can build.

Never was public approval of Dodge Brothers product more obvious, and never was it more richly deserved.

Improvements, rarely spoken of but constantly being made, have brought the car to a state of perfection which can only be described as remarkable, even for Dodge Brothers.

Every part which takes a major strain is built of chrome vanadium steel. Many more pieces of alloy steel are used in vital parts than normal wear requires.

The price is $995 delivered

Just Got Over A Cold?

Look out for kidney troubles and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Grenada man says:

A. D. Collins, grocer, 107 1st St., gave the following statement June 14, 1918: "Sometime ago I had a severe cold that settled on my kidneys. They became weak and disordered and my back ached by spells. I was generally run down and had a tired feeling while the backache lasted. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and decided to get a box at the Second Class Drug Store. After using them, the trouble disappeared and I felt better in every way. I have never since had a return attack of kidney trouble.

On April 12, 1922, Mr. Collins added: "I have never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I recommended them in 1918. They cured me, and the cure has stood the test of years but I still praise and recommend Doan's to my friends."

PETITION FOR PARDON

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI,
Grenada County.
To the Honorable Lee. M. Russell, Governor of the State of Mississippi:
Your petitioners pray that you grant a pardon to Dewitt Grant, who was convicted at the July Term of the Circuit Court of Grenada County in 1921 of manslaughter, and is now serving a five year term in the penitentiary, and assign the following reasons therefor: The proof submitted showed that this boy while driving an automobile along a street of Grenada ran over and killed a boy about 11 years old, that the street was obstructed by vehicles at the point where the accident occurred; that the proof as to whether or not he was exceeding the speed limit or was negligent was conflicting; that he was considered a very careful and safe driver; that the jury which convicted him recommended him to the mercy of the court, as they did not believe he had any criminal intent or was wilfully reckless; that he has always been a good, hardworking negro, and had never been in any trouble before; that he remained in jail for a long time prior to his conviction, and has made a model prisoner since going to the penitentiary; and that we believe that he has been sufficiently punished under the circumstances.
This party was placed on the meritorious list by the Pardon Board at the January 1923 meeting.
Respectfully submitted,
S. A. Grantham.

REVIVAL AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Mr. Harrell, Noted Tennessee Divine To Do the Preaching. Prof. Carnett from Texas to Have Charge of the Singing. Great Results Expected.

The pastor and the congregation of the First Baptist church in Grenada are looking for great things from the revival meeting which is to begin at that church next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. As heretofore announced, the preaching is to be done by Rev. F. J. Harrell of Dyersburg, Tenn. Mr. Harrell is said to be a wonderful man in the pulpit and to know how to shoot gospel shots so as to touch the heart and make the individual realize his duty to his God, himself and his community. He preaches with zeal and with much fervor, and it would seem safe to assert that a great religious awakening is awaiting the town.

Prof. E. L. Carnett of Fort Worth, Texas, will have charge of the singing and it is stated of him that few know better than he how to make the music fit in with the sermon and how to make the singing open the hearts of the people and drive the sermon home.

Everybody is invited. The pastor, Rev. W. E. Farr, is a thoroughly practical man, and knows how to make friends, and the man who knows how to make friends is the man who knows how to reach that which is best and noble in his fellows.

PLANS TO BRING IN IMMIGRANT FARMERS

Memphis, Tennessee.—Plans are being made by the Southern Alluvial Land Association, headquarters in Memphis, to secure a selected class of foreign born farmers and families as settlers throughout the lower Mississippi Valley. It is proposed that they be allotted farm tracts to develop as their own, making no cash payment until they are "on their feet". Employment as tenants, share-croppers and laborers will be provided them until they can make their places self-sustaining.

The Southern Alluvial Land Association is very much like a Chamber of Commerce except that instead of working in the interest of a certain city or town, it is devoting its energy to the up-building and development of the alluvial lands of the lower Mississippi Valley, chiefly by way of advertising them to the country at large and by wiping out many of the old ideas and evil prejudices that so many people entertain concerning the delta country.

Members of the association, for the most part, are large land owners. It is these owners who are interested in securing a high class type of foreign immigrants. The owners are in position to "furnish" such immigrants until they are able to take care of themselves, and can sell them land on long, easy terms and provide them with employment on farms, thereby securing a labor supply to take the place of negroes.

The period for filing tax returns ends at midnight March 15th.

"Worth Weight In Gold" Declares Mrs. Greene

"Stella Vitae Relieved Me After Other Treatments and Medicines Failed to do Me Any Good," States Georgia Woman.

"Stella Vitae is worth its weight in gold to any woman who suffers like I did before this treatment put an end to my troubles," said Mrs. Susie Greene, of Ridgeville, Ga.

"My main trouble seemed to be irregularity of my periods, which caused me to suffer much pain, trouble and inconvenience. My head would ache like it would split in two and my stomach would swell up like it was full of gas. My ankles would get to hurting too so bad it was painful for me to walk or stand on my feet, and I would get very nervous at times till even the rustling of a newspaper would make me shake like a leaf.

"I really can't praise Stella Vitae enough for the way it straightened me out and got back my health. I don't hesitate to say I believe it is the best treatment for women in the world and I will never use anything else so long as I can get it."

It was for the benefit of such wretched, suffering women as Mrs. Greene, and others in like condition, that science has labored so long in perfecting the preparation made from vegetable roots and herbs which is known to possess the peculiar powers of overcoming the troubles to which women are subject.

This preparation, known as Stella Vitae, is now obtainable at any drug store, and it is the positive duty that every woman suffering from female troubles owes to herself and those dear to her to investigate this treatment that is causing such remarkable results wherever it has been used.

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Druggists are supplied from the Van Vleet Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn.—Adv

WOMEN MUST FILE INCOME TAX RETURNS

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue, G. L. Donald, of the district of Mississippi.

Thousands of women are required to file an income tax return and pay a tax on their net income for the year 1922. No official estimate can be given of the number of such women, but statistics of income for the year 1920, recently issued, show that approximately 503,000 women filed returns for that year, claiming the $1,000 exemption allowed a single person. The amount of net income reported by these women was $1,264,955,727. In addition there were filed 132,181 returns by women claiming an exemption of $2,000 as the head of a family, "a person who supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals closely related to him (or her) by blood, marriage or adoption." Net income reported by these women for the year 1920 amounted to $388,364,530. Under the revenue act now in force the personal exemption allowed the head of a family is $2,500 if the net income for 1922 was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 if the net income exceeded $5,000.

The number of wives making separate returns from husbands for the year 1920 was 77,558 reporting net income of $534,840,405. These figures show the income reported in returns filed by women forms an important part of the aggregate income of the people of the United States.

A woman who was widowed during the year 1922, unless the head of a family, or remarried on or before December 31, 1922, may claim a personal exemption of only $1,000. A divorcee, or wife who continually and without necessity makes her home apart from her husband is classed as a single person, and entitled only to the $1,000 personal exemption.

Whether a man and wife are "living apart", for the purposes of the income tax law, depends upon indi-

Do not hesitate because it costs so little, in truth, many insurance policies cost too much. We are only enabled to make this extraordinary offer because of some special arrangements we have made.

Some of the largest daily newspapers in the United States, more than 200 of them in all, are offering this same insurance policy contract to their readers. Among the newspapers it might be mentioned that President Harding's paper, The Marion Star, at Marion, Ohio; The Washington City Herald; The Times Journal and scores upon scores of other newspapers.

DON'T DELAY. TIME IS PRECIOUS. ACCIDENTS ARE TOO FREQUENT. THINK ABOUT WHAT SECURITY A $1000 TRAVEL ACCIDENT POLICY WILL MAKE YOU FEEL.

Knowing that there is nothing too good for Sentinel readers, we made an investigation and got the privilege of selling these policies to our readers.

No such opportunity was ever before offered as this Reader Insurance Policy. It is a bonafide travel accident policy put out by an Old Line Insurance Company.

While doing a real, a genuine service for our readers, we make it easier for one to pay his or her subscription.

The cost is just a little over 1/4 of one cent a day—just think of it. Who would not be willing to double this small amount tomorrow morning as a guarantee against accidents?

The policy is issued to both men and women between the ages of 16 and 70 for white and colored people. No red tape. No medical examination required.

The newspapers are full of stories of automobile and other accidents every day. You may be the next.

The Sentinel believed that it would be doing something worth while if it could find a way to protect its readers against such misfortunes at a small cost.
